

Website Terms of Use

This website is provided by The Diamond Centre for Disabled Riders ("Diamond", "we", "us"). By using this site, you agree to these terms. If you do not agree, please do not use the site. We may update these terms from time to time — please check back periodically. Continued use of the site means you accept any changes.

Who we are

The Diamond Centre for Disabled Riders is a registered charity based in Carshalton, Surrey. We provide therapeutic horse riding and carriage driving for people with disabilities.

Copyright and content

All content on this site — including text, images, and graphics — belongs to Diamond or our licensors and is protected by copyright. You may view and print pages for your own personal, non-commercial use. You may not copy, reproduce, distribute or republish any content without our permission. If you believe any content on this site infringes your copyright, please contact us.

Your privacy and personal data

Protecting your data is important to us. This site may collect personal information — for example, if you sign up to our newsletter or make a donation. For full details of what we collect, why, and how long we keep it, please read our Data Privacy Notice and our Data Protection and GDPR Policy. If you have any questions about your data, please contact us using the details below.

Cookies

This site uses cookies — small files placed on your device — to help it function and to understand how it is used. For full details of the cookies we use and how to manage them, please read our Cookie Notice.

Links to other websites

Our site may contain links to external websites. These are provided for your convenience and do not imply that Diamond endorses or is responsible for those sites or their content. We have no control over external websites and accept no liability for them.

Linking to our site

You are welcome to link to our site using a text link without asking our permission. If you would like to use our logo or any graphics, please contact us first. We reserve the right to ask for any link to be removed.

Disclaimer and limitation of liability

We do our best to keep the information on this site accurate and up to date, but we cannot guarantee this. The site and its content are provided "as is" without any warranties. To the fullest extent permitted by law, Diamond will not be liable for any loss or damage arising from your use of this site or reliance on its content.

Governing law

These terms are governed by the laws of England and Wales. Any disputes will be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of England and Wales.
